TO COIN COLLECTORS.

After announcing the sale of the Coins and Medals formerly belonging to Rev. Mr. Finotti, I purchased several fine collections, at least one of which, that of Dr. Augustine Shurtleff, is hardly less celebrated than that of Mr. Finotti. Several others of less importance have added to my stock many very fine pieces.

Of all these most desirable things, I have retained possession, awaiting the result of my late sale. That having terminated as favorably as I could have anticipated, I have now determined, should no unfavorable circumstance occur to prevent, to offer to American numismatists the gems of the above collections, together with many other remarkable pieces which I have recently been enabled to acquire through the breaking up of several of the finest collections in the country.

The sale, which I trust will more than equal in interest and importance the late one, I intend to announce at an early date in the coming year. Should circumstances prevent an auction sale, I shall issue a priced catalogue, with the design of giving all an equal opportunity to procure those pieces which they may require.

Amongst the rarities which will be offered, a few are as follows:

The unique Pine Tree Copper, from the collection of Mr. Colburn, illustrated in Dickeson's Manual, Plate viii., figure 11. Two varieties of the Higley. Carolina, or Elephant Piece. Excelsior, or New York Cent. Auctori Plebis. Baltimore Shilling, the finest known. A full set of the Annapolis money. Fine Rosa Americana, Pine Tree, and other Colonial Coins. Washington Half-Dollar, and several unique Washington Pieces.

In the regular series, will be found many very fine specimens: — Dollars of '94, '38, '39, '51 and '52, the four last all originals. Half-Dollars of '96 and '97. Rare Proof Sets. Fine Half-Dimes and Dimes; amongst the latter, one of 1804, nearly uncirculated. Rare and fine Cents and Half-Cents; one of the 1799 Cents, is by far finer than any other I have ever met with.

Many very rare Pattern Pieces; a set of the Patterns of 1862, "God our Trust." The largest collection of Presidentials ever offered, together with a very large variety of rare Store Cards, &c., &c., &c.

Catalogues will be sent to all collectors known to me. Others desiring copies, will please address

W. Elliot Woodward.
